

Family Law

Family Law Advice Services

Yes we can assist		No we cannot assist, but here are some self-help resources
Legal Problem
✓ parenting including: ✓ recovery applications ✓ interim court date preparation ✓ mediation preparation ✓ post-mediation advice ✓ family report advice		✗ child support assessments, reviews, departures, appeals ✗ adult child maintenance ✗ child protection
✓ property settlement including: ✓ mediation/arbitration preparation ✓ conciliation conference preparation		✗ binding financial agreements or solicitor’s independent certification of consent orders (family law)
✓ separation and divorce Eligibility Criteria has dependents and an individual income of $100 000 pa* or less has no dependents and an income of $80 000 pa* or less property pool gross value of up to $500 000* (property settlements only)
* Exception available to victims of domestic and family violence who cannot access their money due to economic abuse.
lives in the Greater Brisbane region Services Available appointment required
one advice service per legal problem type (e.g. parenting is one legal problem type) discrete task services or casework services (representation for negotiations, mediation, court hearings) will be assessed during the advice appointment evening advice service—Monday and Tuesday at Caxton Legal Centre daytime advice service throughout the week at Caxton Legal Centre referral to a social worker if needed for counselling, hardship issues, links to essential ongoing services			